

From the 15th February to the 15th May 2016 the Goethe-Institut held the international training course "Online tutorieren". The training on this programme was attended by specialists from different countries (Russia, France, India, Vietnam, and South Africa). From Smolensk State University N.Vassileva, a specialist of the Department for International Relations, the Chair of German language, took part in the project.

The programme of the training course was divided into 3 modules, each of them studied a separate set of issues related to the management and maintenance of remote learning courses on the virtual learning platform Moodle of the Goethe-Institut. Special attention was paid to aspects such as individual counseling of participants in remote learning courses, monitoring of results of training activities, time management and characteristics of moderation in terms of synchronous and asynchronous communication. Within the innovative course 3 online conferences were held. By the results of the work the participants will receive certificates.
